7. About Us Page – Longer Brand Story

Heading:
Our Story: From Island Flavour to Island Trails

Body:

Tamarind adds a bright, tangy note to Sri Lankan cooking – a small ingredient that changes the whole dish.

Tamarind Trails was born from the same idea: that travel should add something meaningful to your life, and to the places you visit.

We are a Sri Lankan team who grew up with the sounds, smells and stories of this island – temple bells at dawn, monsoon rain on tiled roofs, the grind of spices in a village kitchen. After seeing how many visitors only skim the surface of Sri Lanka, we wanted to create something different: trips that are slower, more thoughtful, and rooted in respect.

Our guests are mainly from the UK – travellers who want comfort and safety, but also authenticity: time in the hills with tea pluckers, conversations with elders, street food, quiet coves, and ethical wildlife encounters.

Every Tamarind Trail is designed with local guides, family-run guesthouses, eco-lodges and community projects. We choose partners who treat people fairly and protect the environment, so your trip supports real livelihoods and the landscapes you've come to see.

We're not a giant, anonymous operator. We're a small team who will remember your name, your favourite food, and how you take your tea. From your first email to your last sunset on the island, we want you to feel not like a tourist, but like a welcome guest.

Ayubowan – may you live long. We'd be honoured to walk the Tamarind Trails of Sri Lanka with you.

- 4️⃣How to Use This in Practice

For each itinerary on your website / PDF, you can now show:

Heritage & Hill Country (10 Days)
👉 Available as: Essential / Boutique / Signature

- Essential: from £X pp – comfortable guesthouses, key highlights
- Boutique: from £Y pp – character hotels, more inclusions
- Signature: from £Z pp – boutique & eco-lux, private experiences

Then under each, a bulleted list of "What's different at this tier" (mostly lifted from above).

1️⃣Pricing Structure Template (for all Tamarind Trails itineraries)

Think in two layers:

- Net cost (what it really costs you to run the trip)

- Selling price (what the guest or UK agent sees)
- Step 1 – Define your cost buckets

For each itinerary + tier, collect these net costs:

1. Accommodation
    - Per night per room x number of nights
    - Different hotel list per tier (Essential / Boutique / Signature)
2. Transport
    - Car/van + driver cost per day x days
    - Fuel/tolls/parking (if separate)
    - Train tickets / domestic flights (if used)
3. Activities & entrance fees
    - National parks, temples, heritage sites
    - Safaris, guided walks, tea experiences, cooking classes, etc.
4. Guides & local hosts
    - Daily guiding fees (if not included in driver cost)
    - Local village hosts, craft workshops, community projects
5. Meals included
    - Any lunches/dinners you include on certain days
6. Admin & contingency
    - 5–10% buffer for exchange rate moves, price changes, mistakes
7. Your overhead & profit margin
    - Your office costs, website, marketing, plus what you want to earn

- Step 2 – Build an Excel-style template

For each itinerary (e.g. Heritage & Hill Country – 10D) and each tier:

A: Itinerary name (Heritage & Hill Country – 10 Days)

B: Tier (Essential / Boutique / Signature)

C: Nights (9)

D: Guests (2, twin share – your base case)

Accommodation_total = SUM(all hotel nights per room) / D

Transport_total = (car+driver per day * days + trains) / D

Activities_total = SUM(all entrance + activity costs) / D

Meals_total = SUM(included lunches/dinners) / D

Guides_hosts_total = SUM(all guiding/host fees) / D

Contingency = 5–10% * (Acc + Trans + Act + Meals + Guides)

Net_cost_pp = Acc + Trans + Act + Meals + Guides + Contingency

Margin_percent = e.g. 20–30% (direct) or 10–20% (B2B net)

Selling_price_pp = Net_cost_pp / (1 – Margin_percent)

Round up to a clean number (e.g. £2,190 instead of £2,173)

You'll create three rows per itinerary (Essential / Boutique / Signature) with different:

- Hotel costs
- Activity inclusions
- Meal inclusions

- Step 3 – How tiers usually relate (ballpark logic)

You'll refine with your real numbers, but as a pattern:

- Essential
    - Cheapest hotel list
    - Fewer included experiences & dinners
    - Lowest net cost
    - Margin can still be healthy because expectations are lower
- Boutique

    - ~20–40% higher net cost than Essential (nicer hotels + extras)
    - Main product you push (middle option)
- Signature
    - Another ~30–60% higher net than Boutique (eco-lux, more inclusions)
    - Sold less often, but high absolute profit per booking

In Excel, I'd have a sheet like:

Row	Tier	Net cost pp	Margin %	Sell price pp (land only)
1	Essential	=...	25%	=...
2	Boutique	=...	27%	=...
3	Signature	=...	30%	=...

Then in your marketing:

From £X pp (Essential),
From £Y pp (Boutique – our most popular option),
From £Z pp (Signature).

You can also create a B2B net rate version without your retail margin (for UK agents).

16 Marketing Plan – Tamarind Trails

- Brand: Tamarind Trails
- Market: UK travellers (B2C) + UK/European travel agents (B2B)
- Positioning: Slow, soulful, sustainable Sri Lanka trips, designed by locals

1. Clear Value Proposition

- 🎒 For Travellers (B2C)

"Slow, soulful Sri Lanka journeys designed by locals, for UK travellers who care about culture, comfort and the planet."

Broken down:

- Slow & soulful – not rushed, more meaningful than "tick-box" tours
- Designed by locals – authentic, insider knowledge
- For UK travellers – tailored to their expectations & needs
- Culture, comfort & planet – balance of authenticity, comfort and sustainability

Short version for website hero / ads:

"Sustainable Sri Lanka trips crafted by locals, at your pace."

- 🤝 For Travel Agents / Tour Operators (B2B)

"A Sri Lankan-owned, sustainability-focused DMC providing flexible, white-label itineraries and reliable ground support for your clients."

Key points:

- Sri Lankan-owned – true local partner
- Sustainability-focused – aligns with their ESG / "responsible travel" messaging
- Flexible, white-label – they can sell under their brand
- Reliable ground support – you solve their operational headache

---

- 🌱 For Local Communities & Partners (Internal Promise)

"We bring fair, long-term tourism income to local families and small businesses, while protecting culture, wildlife and landscapes."

Not a marketing tagline, but a guiding principle for you.

2. Positioning in the Market

Where Tamarind Trails sits compared to others:

- Not a cheap backpacker / party operator
- Not a big, anonymous mass operator
- Instead: a boutique, locally run, responsible DMC focused on:
    - 10–14 day trips
    - Couples / small groups
    - Eco-aware, culture-seeking UK travellers

If you had to summarise:

"We are to Sri Lanka what a good independent wine shop is to wine: small, knowledgeable, curated, and deeply passionate about the product."

3. Ideal Customer Profiles (for your marketing)

- Persona 1 – "Ethical Explorer Couple"
    - Age: 30–45
    - Based in: UK cities (London, Manchester, Leeds, etc.)
    - Values: Sustainability, authentic experiences, good food, nice accommodation
    - Behaviour: Reads Guardian/FT travel, follows eco/slow travel accounts, willing to pay more for responsible experiences
    - Need: "I want a special trip that feels real, but safe and well organised."
- Persona 2 – "Culture & Comfort Seekers"
    - Age: 40–60
    - Perhaps more disposable income
    - Wants: Comfort, private driver, some boutique stays
    - Not hardcore adventurers, but curious and open
    - Need: "I want to really understand Sri Lanka, not just sit at an all-inclusive."
- Persona 3 – "Special Trip / Honeymoon Planners"

- Planning a once-in-a-few-years big trip or honeymoon
- Wants “wow” moments + reassurance + good communication
- Perfect for Tamarind Signature tier

All messaging, images and offers should speak to these three.

---

4. Core Messages (Use Everywhere)

You can rephrase, but these are your pillars:

1. Locally Designed, Not Outsourced

“Your trip is designed and run by Sri Lankans who grew up here, not by someone reading a brochure.”

2. Slow & Thoughtful

“We avoid rushed itineraries. Our trips are paced so you can actually feel the places you visit.”

3. Sustainable & Responsible

“No elephant rides, no exploitative shows. We work with eco-stays, local guides and community projects.”

4. Comfort with Character

“Boutique guesthouses, tea bungalows and eco-lodges with more personality than big chains.”

Use these themes across website, socials, emails, and agent pitch decks.

---

5. Marketing Channels & Tactics

5.1 Brand Foundations (Month 0–1)

- Logo, colour palette & fonts (clean, nature-inspired, earthy tones)
- Website (simple but high quality):
    - Home
    - About Tamarind Trails
    - Sample itineraries (with tiers)
    - Sustainability page

    - “Plan my trip” enquiry form
- Email address with your domain (e.g. hello@tamarindtrails.com)
- WhatsApp Business profile with short “About” text

5.2 Organic Content: Social + Blog

Primary channels:

- Instagram (visual storytelling)
- Facebook (older audience + groups)
- Blog on your website (for SEO + depth)

Content pillars:

1. Places & Trails
    - Post about specific spots: hill country, Galle Fort, village life
    - Reels: short clips from train journeys, markets, spice gardens
2. People & Stories
    - Profiles of local guides, homestay hosts, artisans
    - “Meet your driver-guide, Sunil” type posts
3. Food & Spice
    - Tamarind, tea, cinnamon, hoppers, kottu, sambols
    - Short recipe posts or “what’s on your Sri Lankan breakfast plate?”
4. Responsible Travel Tips
    - “How to be a respectful guest in Sri Lankan temples”
    - “What ethical wildlife tourism means in Sri Lanka”
5. Itinerary Teasers
    - “A day on our Heritage & Hill Country trail”
    - Carousel of Day 1–3 highlights

Goal:

- Build trust and personality, not just sales pitches
- Show your local knowledge and values

5.3 SEO & Website Content

Focus on long-tail keywords (less competitive, more targeted), e.g.:

- "sri lanka eco tours from uk"
- "sustainable sri lanka holidays"
- "small group sri lanka tour uk"
- "boutique sri lanka itineraries"

Blog ideas:

- "Is Sri Lanka safe for eco-conscious solo travellers?"
- "What does responsible wildlife tourism in Sri Lanka actually look like?"
- "10 slow-travel experiences in Sri Lanka (beyond the beach)"

5.4 Paid Advertising (Small, Targeted Tests)

Start small to learn:

Meta Ads (Facebook/Instagram)

- Target UK users with interests:
  - Sustainable travel, ethical tourism
  - Sri Lanka, India, Asia travel
  - Lonely Planet, Nat Geo Traveller, responsible travel blogs
- Test 2–3 simple campaigns:
  0. Lead magnet: "Download a free 7-day Sri Lanka slow-travel guide" → email capture
  1. Itinerary highlight: "See our 10-day Heritage & Hill Country journey" → website
  2. Brand intro: Quick video/reel explaining Tamarind Trails

Google Search Ads

- Small campaign on very targeted phrases, e.g.:
  - "sri lanka eco friendly tour operator"
  - "sri lanka sustainable holidays from uk"

Keep budgets small at first and see which keywords and creatives work.

5.5 Partnerships & B2B

This can be huge for you.

- Identify UK travel agencies that:
  - Focus on tailor-made, long-haul, responsible travel
  - Already sell India / Asia but maybe not Sri Lanka much
- Send them:
  - Your Tamarind Trails B2B one-pager
  - 1–2 sample itineraries with net rates
- Offer:
  - White-label itineraries
  - Co-branded marketing (e.g. a “Sustainable Sri Lanka” campaign)
- Also consider:
  - UK-based Sri Lankan community groups, cultural associations
  - Sustainable travel bloggers / YouTubers open to a collab trip
  - Being listed on curated platforms (e.g. Good Market, responsible tourism directories) later

🌱 Sustainable Travel Policy – Website Page

You can use this as a full page under "Sustainability" or "Our Responsibility".

- Title:

Our Sustainable Travel Policy

- Intro

At Tamarind Trails, we believe a journey should leave lasting memories, not lasting damage.

We are a Sri Lankan-owned company, and this island is our home. Our sustainable travel policy is our promise to protect the places, wildlife and communities that make Sri Lanka special – while giving our guests slow, soulful experiences they can feel good about.

This page explains how we put responsible travel into practice on every Tamarind Trail.

- 1. Our Commitment
- We prioritise locally owned accommodation, guides and experiences.
- We avoid activities that exploit people, wildlife or culture.
- We design itineraries that are realistic, not rushed, to reduce stress on both guests and hosts.
- We're transparent with guests about what's included, what's not, and why.

We're not perfect, but we are committed to improving every year.

- 2. Supporting Local Communities

We want tourism income to stay as close to local communities as possible.

We aim to:

- Work with Sri Lankan-owned guesthouses, homestays, eco-lodges and restaurants wherever possible.
- Pay fair, agreed rates to guides, drivers and hosts – on time.
- Include community-based experiences (village walks, cooking classes, crafts) that are run and benefitting locals, not outsiders.
- Avoid "human zoo" encounters where people's lives are staged in a disrespectful way.

When you travel with Tamarind Trails, your money supports real families and small businesses, not just big chains.

- 3. Respecting Wildlife & Nature

Sri Lanka is home to elephants, leopards, whales, turtles and countless other species. They are not props for photos.

We commit to:

- Never offering elephant riding, big cat handling, or any forced animal performances.
- Choosing safari operators who follow park rules, keep safe distances and do not chase or corner animals.
- Encouraging guests to keep noise low, follow guide instructions, and never feed wildlife.
- Promoting activities that respect natural habitats: guided hikes, birdwatching, nature walks, properly managed boat trips.

If an activity feels wrong for the animals, we don't sell it.

- 4. Accommodation & Partners

We carefully review where we send our guests.

We prefer partners who:

- Make a real effort to reduce plastic, save water and energy.
- Treat staff fairly and with respect.
- Are part of or supportive of local communities, not walled-off bubbles.

We regularly gather feedback from guests and hosts and will stop working with suppliers who don't meet our standards.

- 5. Minimising Waste & Plastic

We encourage simple choices that add up:

- Offering or recommending refillable water bottles and refill points where possible.
- Avoiding unnecessary single-use plastic on tours and picnics.
- Suggesting guests bring reusable items (bottles, bags, straws, cutlery) from home.

Sri Lanka's waste systems are under pressure – thoughtful choices from each visitor really do help.

- 6. Transport & Carbon

We know flights are the biggest part of a trip's carbon footprint. While we can't remove this, we can:

- Design logical, well-paced routes that reduce unnecessary backtracking and extra drives.
- Use trains where practical and enjoyable (e.g. hill-country routes).
- Encourage guests to stay longer and travel deeper, rather than multiple short, rushed trips.
- Offer simple options for guests to offset or support local reforestation/community projects where appropriate.

- 7. Respecting Culture & Traditions

Sri Lanka's culture is rich, layered and sometimes sensitive. We help guests to:

- Dress appropriately in temples and religious sites.
- Ask permission before photographing people.
- Learn a few basic phrases and cultural do's/don'ts.
- Understand the realities of local life, beyond glossy postcards.

We brief our guests before and during the trip so they can be respectful visitors.

- 8. How Guests Can Help

We gently invite every traveller to:

- Travel with an open mind and open heart.
- Choose quality over quantity – fewer places, more depth.
- Follow our guidance on wildlife, plastic and cultural respect.
- Share honest feedback with us so we can keep improving.

- 9. Continuous Improvement

This policy is a living document. As Tamarind Trails grows, we will:

- Review our partners and practices annually.
- Listen to our hosts, guides and guests.
- Publish key improvements and milestones on this page.

If you have ideas or questions about how we work, please contact us at [your email] – we're always happy to talk about responsible travel.

Mist on the hills, tea in your hands, the slow rattle of the train through endless green. 🍃

Our Heritage & Hill Country trail weaves together:
🐘 The ancient cities
🛕 Kandy's Temple of the Tooth
🚆 One of the world's most scenic train rides
🍛 Home-cooked village dinners

This is Sri Lanka at a gentler pace – no 5-cities-in-3-days madness.

Save this if you're dreaming of tea fields and temples, and comment HILL if you want us to send you the sample 10-day itinerary. ✉️

- 3) Food & Spice (Brand Personality)

Image: Sri Lankan rice & curry spread, close-up of tamarind, spices, sambols.

In Sri Lanka, food isn't just food – it's how we welcome you, celebrate you and sometimes even heal you. 🍋🍛

Tamarind, cardamom, cinnamon, chilli, coconut… every region has its own way of balancing flavours.

On a Tamarind Trails journey you might:
👩🍳 Learn to cook rice & curry in a village kitchen
🌶️ Visit a local market and buy spices with your host
🫖 Taste tea where it's grown

Would you be brave enough to try all the sambols on the table? 😅

Tag someone you'd share this feast with. 👇

- 4) Responsible Wildlife Post

Image: Elephant in the wild (from a distance), not in chains or performing.

Caption:

Elephants don't exist for our entertainment.

At Tamarind Trails, we never sell elephant rides or staged animal shows. Instead, we:

🐘 Work with safari operators who keep safe distances
🌳 Follow park rules and avoid chasing wildlife
🌱 Support conservation-minded guides and lodges

We believe the best wildlife moments are the ones that feel natural, not forced – a glimpse of elephants at a waterhole, birds at dawn, the rustle of something in the trees.

Travel should protect what you've come to see. 💚

Save this post if ethical wildlife is a non-negotiable for you.

- 5) Village Life / Homestay Post

Image: Simple village scene, maybe tea with a host family, cooking scene.

Caption:

Some of the best memories on our trails aren't at famous sights – they're at someone's dinner table.

Staying in a homestay or family-run guesthouse means:
🫖 Tea poured by your host, not from a hotel urn
🍛 Recipes that never make it to restaurants
🗣️ Stories about real life, not just tourist history

We carefully choose hosts who genuinely want to welcome guests and benefit from tourism – and we pay them fairly.

17 Alternative: We are going to fund stray dog welfare and that will be part of our marketing and CSR strategy

This fits perfectly with your "responsible, locally rooted" brand.

Strategy:

1️⃣ Choose & Partner With 1–2 Foundations (Don't Spread Too Thin)

Instead of "supporting street dogs" in a vague way, make it specific:

- Pick 1–2 reputable Sri Lankan dog welfare groups (e.g. street dog rescue, spay/neuter, vaccination, rehoming).
- Do some due diligence:
  - Registered NGO?
  - Transparent about what they do?
  - Good veterinary practices?
  - How do they treat foreign visitors (if any)?

Then create a simple, written understanding:

- What you will do: e.g. fixed donation per booking, optional guest visits, awareness posts.
- What they will do: e.g. share updates, allow occasional visits where appropriate, give you impact data (number of dogs treated, etc.).

👉 Key idea: go deep, not wide. Being a real partner to 1–2 NGOs is more powerful than listing 10 logos.

2️⃣ Build Donations into Your Business Model (So It's Automatic)

Here are sustainable, low-friction ways to bake dog welfare into Tamarind Trails:

a) Donation per booking (simple & powerful)

- Example:

"For every Tamarind Trails booking, we donate US$10 / £10 to our street dog welfare partner."

You can tie it to something tangible:

- “Every booking funds vaccinations / food / one spay-neuter surgery,” etc.

b) Opt-in “Round Up for Street Dogs”

On quotes/invoices:

- Add a line:

“Optional: Add £20 to your trip to support Sri Lankan street dogs via [NGO name].”

Most of your eco-conscious guests will say yes, especially if they see you’re genuine.

c) Special “Tamarind Trails x Street Dogs” departure

Once you’re established, you can run 1–2 themed departures per year:

- A normal itinerary (heritage, hills, coast) but with:
    - Half-day shelter visit,
    - Donation built into the price,
    - Maybe a fundraising target for that group.

3️⃣ Guest Experiences That Help Dogs (Ethically & Kindly)

You want to be careful not to turn a shelter into a tourist attraction. Think in terms of gentle, optional experiences for genuinely interested guests.

a) Optional shelter visit

Offer as an add-on, not compulsory:

- 2–3 hours, pre-arranged, with a clear structure:
    - Briefing by staff about their work
    - Tour of facilities (only what’s appropriate)
    - Helping with calm tasks (filling food bowls, gentle socialising with dogs that enjoy it, walking a dog if they allow)
- A donation from each visit is included in the price.

You ensure:

- No distressing situations are put on display.
- Dogs’ welfare is always prioritised over photo opportunities.

b) “Street Dog Friendly” guiding

Train your guides & drivers to:

- Carry a small bag of dog food (where safe/appropriate) instead of random scraps.
- Know which local feeders / NGOs are active in certain areas.
- Share balanced information with guests:
    - Why there are so many street dogs,
    - What sterilisation/vaccination projects do,
    - How tourists can help without doing harm.

c) Volunteer add-on (only if NGOs want it)

For some guests (especially longer stays), you could coordinate half-day / one-day light volunteering:

- Pre-approved by the NGO
- Suitable tasks: cleaning, light maintenance, admin help, social media help, etc.
- Always under NGO guidance.

4️⃣ Use Your Digital Voice to Amplify Them (Without Being Performative)

You're building a brand with a voice – use it to help the dogs.

Website

- Create a sub-section: "Tamarind Trails & Street Dogs"
- Explain:
    - Why street dogs matter to you
    - Who your partner(s) are
    - What you actually do (donation per booking, visits, etc.)
    - Optional extra donations / sponsorship links

Social media

- Once or twice a month:
    - Highlight a success story (before/after, adopted dog, vaccinated community).
    - Share behind-the-scenes work from the NGO (with permission).

    - Run occasional fundraisers (e.g. “This month we’re matching donations up to £X”).

Email marketing

- Add a small block in welcome emails and newsletters:
    - “This quarter your bookings helped us fund X dog vaccinations / surgeries.”
    - Provide a link to donate directly if they want to do more.

Important: Always stay transparent and humble. Avoid “poverty porn” or exploiting sad images just to get clicks.

5️⃣ Ready-to-Use Wording for Your Website

Can drop this into a new section called:

18 Tamarind Trails & Street Dogs

Sri Lanka’s streets are full of life – people, tuk tuks, and also thousands of dogs. Some have homes, some don’t, and many live somewhere in between.

As Sri Lankans, we’ve grown up with street dogs as part of our daily lives. We’ve also seen, up close, how vulnerable they can be without proper care.

That’s why Tamarind Trails partners with [NGO Name], a local street dog welfare group working to vaccinate, treat, sterilise and care for dogs in our communities.

How your journey helps

- For every Tamarind Trails booking, we donate £X to [NGO Name].
- You’ll have the option to “round up” your trip and add an extra £10–£20 donation if you wish.
- On some itineraries, you can join an optional, carefully managed visit to the shelter or feeding project to learn more about their work.

Your holiday doesn’t just support the people and places you visit – it also helps give Sri Lanka’s street dogs a safer, kinder future.

We’re happy to share more about this partnership or connect you directly with [NGO Name] if you’d like to support them further.

You can tweak £X once you know what’s realistic.

Roughly 15 gbp: That £15 per booking with Animal SOS just an example

1️⃣ Partnership Email to Animal SOS Sri Lanka

Subject ideas:

- Potential partnership: Tamarind Trails eco travel & Animal SOS Sri Lanka
- Supporting Animal SOS Sri Lanka through Sri Lanka eco-tourism

Email draft:

Dear Animal SOS Sri Lanka team,

My name is [Your Name] and I'm one of the founders of Tamarind Trails, a Sri Lankan-owned eco travel company creating slow, sustainable journeys for UK travellers.

We are building our business around two core values:

1. Supporting local communities and small businesses, and
2. Being kind to animals and the environment in every decision we make.

As Sri Lankans, we are very aware of the challenges faced by street dogs and cats here, and we have been following the work of Animal SOS Sri Lanka with great respect. Your no-kill sanctuary, rescue and rehabilitation work, and spay/neuter and vaccination programmes are exactly the kind of long-term solutions we believe in. Animal-SOS-Sri-Lanka+1

We would love to explore a simple, transparent partnership where Tamarind Trails can:

- Donate £15 from every confirmed booking to Animal SOS Sri Lanka, and
- Raise awareness of your work with our guests and on our digital channels.

Based on your current "Make a Difference" page, we can see that, for example, £15 can cover care for puppies for a day, or contribute towards veterinary care, food and rehabilitation. Animal-SOS-Sri-Lanka We would like to reference this (with your permission) so guests understand the real impact of each trip.

Practically, we're thinking about:

- Featuring Animal SOS Sri Lanka on a dedicated page on our website, explaining your mission and how each Tamarind Trails booking helps.
- Offering guests an optional "top-up donation" if they would like to contribute more personally (and directing UK taxpayers to your Gift Aid information so you can reclaim the extra 25% where applicable). Animal-SOS-Sri-Lanka

- For genuinely interested guests, arranging gentle, pre-approved visits or volunteering days at your sanctuary, only if this fits your policies and capacity, and always under your guidance so that animal welfare and staff time come first. animalscharities.co.uk+1

Before we finalise anything on our side, we would really value your guidance on:

- The best way to structure and send donations (e.g. monthly transfer of total booking donations, any reference you'd like us to use).
- Any branding or wording guidelines you would like us to follow when we mention Animal SOS Sri Lanka on our website and social media.
- Whether you are currently open to visitor/volunteer involvement from travellers, and if so, under what conditions.

Our hope is to build a respectful, long-term relationship where Tamarind Trails can become a small but reliable stream of support for your work, and where our guests can see the positive impact their holiday has for Sri Lanka's street animals.

If this sounds of interest, we would be very happy to arrange a short call (in person in Sri Lanka or via Zoom/WhatsApp) at a time that suits you.

Thank you so much for the incredible work you do, and for considering this idea.

Warm regards,
[Your Name]

Section Title

Street Dogs, Real Change: Our Partnership with Animal SOS Sri Lanka

Body copy:

Sri Lanka's streets are full of life – tuk tuks, tea stalls, people, and thousands of dogs and cats trying to survive. Some have homes, many don't.

As Sri Lankans, we've grown up with street dogs as part of the everyday landscape. We've also seen how vulnerable they are when there's no safety net.

That's why Tamarind Trails partners with Animal SOS Sri Lanka – a UK-registered charity running a large no-kill sanctuary in the south of Sri Lanka, rescuing, treating and caring for injured, disabled and abandoned street animals, and running spay/neuter and rabies vaccination programmes to reduce suffering long-term. Animal-SOS-Sri-Lanka+1

How Your Trip Helps

For every Tamarind Trails booking, we donate £15 to Animal SOS Sri Lanka.

According to their current donation guidance, £15 can help care for puppies for a day at their sanctuary – providing food, safe shelter and dedicated care. Animal-SOS-Sri-Lanka Your holiday directly supports this work, alongside vital rescue, veterinary treatment and feeding programmes for hundreds of dogs and cats. Animal-SOS-Sri-Lanka+1

You can follow with:

On top of this, you'll have the option to:

- "Round up" your trip with an extra personal donation if you wish.
- Donate directly to Animal SOS Sri Lanka and, if you're a UK taxpayer, enable them to claim Gift Aid and increase your donation by 25% at no extra cost to you. Animal-SOS-Sri-Lanka

Optional Visits & Volunteering (only if they agree later)

You can keep this in draft until they confirm:

For travellers who feel a strong connection to the cause, we can sometimes arrange carefully managed visits or volunteer days at the Animal SOS Sri Lanka sanctuary.

These are always:

- Coordinated directly with the charity
- Focused on light, helpful tasks and learning about their work
- Designed to put the animals' welfare and staff time first, not tourism

If this is something you'd like to explore on your Tamarind Trail, let us know when you enquire and we'll see what's possible in partnership with the charity.

Simple Impact Box

On the same page (or later, in a year) you can show impact like this:

Tamarind Trails x Animal SOS Sri Lanka – Early Impact

Thanks to our guests, so far we have been able to:

- Donate £[total] to Animal SOS Sri Lanka
- Help fund [X] days of puppy care / feeding / treatments at their sanctuary (based on their published costs). Animal-SOS-Sri-Lanka+1

As we grow, we hope this number grows with us.

You can start with placeholders and update once you have bookings.

18.1"cause" paragraph to include in the booking confirmations (e.g. "Your trip has just funded £15 to Animal SOS Sri Lanka"), and/or

1️⃣ Booking Confirmation Paragraph (for emails / PDFs)

You can drop this into your booking confirmation email or itinerary PDF.

Option A (short & warm)

As part of your booking, Tamarind Trails will donate £15 to Animal SOS Sri Lanka, a no-kill street animal charity caring for injured, abandoned and vulnerable dogs and cats. Your trip is already helping make life a little safer and kinder for Sri Lanka's street animals. 💚

Option B (slightly longer, for PDF)

Every Tamarind Trail supports more than your own journey. For each booking, we donate £15 to Animal SOS Sri Lanka, a no-kill sanctuary and street animal welfare charity in the south of Sri Lanka. This helps fund food, medical care and long-term rescue and rehabilitation for street dogs and cats. Thank you for being part of this.

2️⃣ Quote / Proposal Line (when you send prices)

Just a single line you can include at the end of a quote:

🌱 Giving back: Every confirmed booking includes a £15 donation from Tamarind Trails to Animal SOS Sri Lanka in support of street dog welfare.

3️⃣ Post-Trip Thank-You Line

Add this to your post-trip thank-you email:

Thanks to your Tamarind Trail, we've donated £15 on your behalf to Animal SOS Sri Lanka to support their street dog rescue and care work. If you'd like to continue supporting them directly, we're happy to share their details.

18.2 For guides reference when guests ask about the street dogs they see on the road.

4️⃣ One–Two Line Guide Script (for when guests ask about street dogs)

You can give this to your drivers/guides as a simple, natural explanation.

Base explanation:

"You'll see many street dogs here – some are owned and roam around, some live fully on the street. We work with a charity called Animal SOS Sri Lanka that rescues and treats injured dogs and runs sterilisation and vaccination programmes."

If guests ask "Do you support them?":

"Yes. For every trip Tamarind Trails runs, we donate £15 to Animal SOS Sri Lanka. Some guests also choose to support them directly after they see the situation here."

If guests ask "Should we feed them?":

"If you'd like to help, it's best not to give random scraps. We can point you to people or charities who feed them properly, or to Animal SOS Sri Lanka if you'd like to donate."

18.3 Our Impact page for the website

🌍 OUR IMPACT

Travel that feels good for you, and good for Sri Lanka.

At Tamarind Trails, every journey is designed to leave a positive trace: for the places you visit, the people you meet and even the street dogs you pass on the road.

We focus on three pillars of impact: Planet, People & Paws.

🌱 1. Planet – Travelling Lighter

We can't pretend travel has no footprint. But we can choose to travel better.

- Slow, thoughtful routes
  We design realistic itineraries with fewer rushed transfers and less backtracking, so you spend more time enjoying places and less time burning fuel.
- Lower-impact choices
  Where it makes sense, we use scenic train journeys, walking and gentle activities instead of constant long drives and high-impact add-ons.

- Less plastic, less waste
  We encourage refillable bottles, avoid unnecessary single-use plastics on tours and picnics, and favour partners who are also trying to reduce waste.

We're always learning and refining how we can reduce our environmental impact year by year.

🤝 2. People – Supporting Local Lives

Tourism should put money into local hands, not just big chains.

- Local stays & small businesses
  We prioritise locally owned guesthouses, homestays, eco-lodges and small restaurants so your trip supports real families and communities.
- Fair pay for guides & hosts
  We work with Sri Lankan driver-guides and local specialists, agreeing fair rates and paying on time. When you join a village walk, cooking class or craft workshop, your payment goes directly to the people who host you.
- Respectful cultural experiences
  We avoid staged, exploitative encounters. Instead, we focus on real connections—shared meals, conversations, and visits that are welcomed by the community, not imposed on them.

Every Tamarind Trail is built around the question: "Who benefits from this?"—and we want the answer to include local people.

🐾 3. Paws – Caring for Street Dogs

Sri Lanka's street dogs are part of the landscape—but many need help.

We are proud to support Animal SOS Sri Lanka, a no-kill charity that rescues, treats and cares for injured and abandoned street dogs and cats, and runs vital sterilisation and vaccination programmes.

- For every Tamarind Trails booking, we donate £15 to Animal SOS Sri Lanka.
- Guests can choose to add an extra donation if they wish.
- Where appropriate and welcomed by the charity, we can help interested travellers learn more about their work in a respectful, non-disruptive way.

Your holiday doesn't just support people and places—it also helps give Sri Lanka's street animals a kinder future.

📊 Our Impact in Simple Numbers

(You can update these every 6–12 months)

You can present this as three simple stats or icons:

- 🏡 Local partners supported: [X] guesthouses, homestays and small businesses
- 🧭 Guides & drivers employed: [Y] Sri Lankan professionals booked through us
- 🐶 Donations to Animal SOS Sri Lanka: £[total] so far, helping fund care, treatment and rescue for street animals

💚 Travel With Intention

When you choose Tamarind Trails, you're not just booking an itinerary—you're choosing a way of travelling:

- Kinder to the planet
- Fairer for local communities
- More compassionate to animals

If you'd like to know more about any part of our impact—or have ideas on how we can do better—please reach out to us at [your email].

We're always happy to talk about travelling more gently through the world.
